

School of Social Work

FACULTY OF ARTS

The UBC School of Social Work acknowledges that we are located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territory of the xʷməθkʷəyəm (Musqueam) people. The School logo designed by Ray Sims, a member of the Musqueam Nation, depicts Raven transforming into a human child. Raven is seen to be the most magical of all beings with the ability to shapeshift into anything at will. The most frequent form Raven takes is that of a human. Through adventures, Raven creates much of what we have around us. Humans learn much and acquire much knowledge of life and living through learning the orals associated with Raven’s adventures and misadventures, for Raven intentionally, as well as inadvertently, has created much by making mistakes.

School Vision: Building upon a foundation of social justice and an ethic of care, we are a community of learners actively engaged in the development of critical, transformative knowledge for social work practice.

MSW Mission

The MSW program offers an accessible, advanced professional degree focused on social work practice in the fields of child and family welfare, health and social care, and international and social development, using a social justice lens. The purpose of this MSW program is to prepare our graduates to be competent social work professionals, equipped with state-of-the-art knowledge and skills, a critical analytic lens, and a social justice orientation.

COURSE OUTLINE Winter 2022 – DRAFT under development – for DISCUSSION

Prerequisite and/or Corequisite

There are no pre-requisites for this course.

Course Description

The purpose of this course is to develop a critical model for Social Work Practice in the field of Aging which incorporates attention to intra-personal, interpersonal and structural issues associated with aging. Focus will be on discussing and critically analyzing issues related to practice with older adults, their families and those who work with them. Students will be exposed to a range of topics intended to stimulate conversation, promote an unsettling of assumptions of what it means to age and 'be old', and to tease out how theory is used to inform Social Work practice. The goal is for students to begin to explicate an advanced-level practice model for working in the field of Aging that is grounded in ideas of social justice and human rights.

Course Structure and Learning Activities

Classroom activities incorporate a diverse range of approaches including: lecture, small group discussion, case study development and guest speakers....Per UBC directives, the first two classes will take place virtually and then it is intended that this course will take place in person, but we will discuss during the first class whether students wish to consider a hybrid option after the first two weeks.

Learning Outcomes

1. Begin to articulate the links between theory, policy, research and Social Work practice in the field of Aging.
2. Develop ability to think critically about current policy and practice in the field of Aging through reflexive practice and by applying ideas of social justice, human rights, and diversity to understanding issues related to aging.
3. Incorporate current research/interventions into personal Social Work practice.
4. Increase understanding and creativity about the role of Social Work in the field of aging
5. Develop practice skills in the field of aging – I bring a particular expertise related to dementia and issues related to understanding and assessing (in)capacity and while the course will not be limited to exploring these topics, a substantial part of my teaching will be directed toward developing practice skills in relation to these two topics

Required Textbook(s) and Learning Materials

Hulko, W., Brotman, S., Stern, L. & Ferrer, I. (2020) Gerontological Social Work in Action: Anti-Oppressive Practice with Older Adults, their Families, and Communities. Routledge.

This text has been selected as a foundational text for the course. I selected it because it is the most recently published text that clearly takes a critical lens consistent with a social justice approach to social work. It is also Canadian.

In addition, I will supplement the required text with at least one additional reading each week. I have tried to select readings and resources that are mostly available on-line. Students are encouraged to read beyond these readings and share with colleagues' those readings and resources that they find useful as the course unfolds – an opportunity for sharing this will be offered at the start of each class and students will be encouraged to use UBC CANVAS for posting interesting resources. Please note that the readings for this course are top-loaded – in other words, they are much heavier at the beginning of the course and get lighter as the course unfolds.

Additional Recommended-only Text

Dementia-Specific

Bartlett, R. & O'Connor, D. (2010) Broadening the Dementia Lens: Toward Social citizenship. London: Policy Press.

I will be using several chapters from this text.

Background General Text (in case you are looking for something more!)

Fook, J. (2016) Social Work: A critical approach to practice, 3rd edition. Los Angeles: SAGE.

In this course, I draw heavily on critical, post-structural/postmodern ideas to ground my approach to social work practice in the field of aging. My lens is consistent with the approach developed in this more generally-focused social work text. So although this text does not address aging practice per se, it helps to explicate the theoretical foundation I will be developing and provides what I think is one of the best overviews of an approach to critical social work practice that is entirely relevant and applicable to direct practice.

Assessment of Learning

Proposed Assignment(s)

From a list created by the class, select a topic that interests you related to Social Work practice in the field of Aging. I encourage you to use your personal/professional experiences to ground your work - for example, this could include presenting a case/situation which you have encountered (and/or found problematic or puzzling) - and then draw upon selected theoretical perspectives to analyze. Pay particular attention to explicating how this theoretical lens will direct understanding and practice. You will work both individually and as part of a group on this topic. Your research on this topic will be presented three steps.

1. Class presentation (may be individual or group)

By the third week of class, themes will be developed for each of the class presentation dates and you will be assigned (self-selected or by me) to a relevant theme based on your topic of interest. Individuals are then expected to work collaboratively to develop the content for that day's class – you may work as a group around one presentation, or as a group of individuals who have coordinated your work efforts in order to avoid duplication of content.

It is expected that this presentation will form the foundation for your final paper (see assignment 3) so will undoubtedly contain considerable overlapping content. However, be careful that you do not present too much content during your presentation!!!! An important part of this assignment is to develop your teaching/presentation skills and that includes getting your colleagues involved in their own learning. It is recognized that this presentation will reflect 'work in progress' so do feel free to use the class presentation as an opportunity for exploring/developing your ideas on the topic, including seeking input from your colleagues on questions you might have.

Due: presentations will take place between Mar 3 and Mar 31, 2022 – Actual date may not be finalized until late February so BE PREPARED TO GO FIRST!

Value: 30% of final grade (see attachment for suggested grading criteria)

2. Annotated Bibliographies

Prepare two annotated bibliographies relevant to the theme of your presentation. The annotations should include a brief overview of the article (providing sufficient detail that your colleagues will be able to use this information), and discuss its relevance to social work practice (i.e., How does it help you think about your practice? Why did you select it as relevant/important?). Note: Move beyond the general abstract to explicitly discuss content in relation to your presentation/paper and provide concrete details around findings or what is being said.

When selecting, try to get current (or classic) article and pay particular attention to insuring its relevance to Social Work practice. If you are working as a group or pair, please include at least one current policy document.

These will be distributed to the entire class and used as course readings for second part of the course. (ie. during March). Approximate length of each bibliography should be about 1 - 1.5 pages single-spaced.

Due: February 24, 2022

Value: 15% of final grade (see attachment for grading criteria)

3. Major Paper: 16-20 pages – this can be a group or individual paper.

The two previous assignments are seen as building blocks to this final paper. (See initial outline of assignment for more detail). We will discuss this assignment further in class, but basically, the purpose of this paper is to select an area of practice that intrigues you (or you find challenging) and, drawing on relevant theory, develop a grounded practice framework for addressing this issue. Consider for example how a particular theory/lens helps you understand the situation/issue and how it directs ideas about intervention. Feel free to base this paper around a case study developed from your practice.

Due: April 15, 2022

Value: 40% of final grade (See attachment for suggested grading criteria)

4. Class participation

The success of this course will depend upon creating a supportive, interactive environment will everyone feels comfortable and willing to contribute and participate. I will be asking you to provide a self-evaluation of how you think your participation should be evaluated (You may include, but do not limit it to, your attendance and punctuality as one criteria).

Due: April 15, 2022 (or with final paper)

Value: 15% of final grade

Please note: if you have another idea for an assignment that you think would be more relevant to your learning needs AND is consistent with the course objectives, please feel free to discuss it with me.

Course Assignments: Grading Criteria

1. Assignment 1 - Annotated Bibliography

a) Content (6)

- conveys a salient and useable synopsis of article as related to your topic;
- promotes depth and understanding of this issue;
- clear statement as to why this article is being selected as an important source of knowledge in relation to this topic. (i.e., why do you think it is important that your colleagues know about this particular citation?)

b) Usefulness of Annotation (6)

- Quality of selection (criteria include: current (or 'classic' as opposed to dated), relevant to social work;
- Ability to promote critical thinking;

c) Communication (3)

- clear, well-written, good sentence-structure, logical development

2. Assignment 2 - Class Presentations

a) Content (30)

- develop salient overview of the issue/case (be careful about providing too much detail/information!);

- contextualize issue (i.e., Identifies theoretical lens being used...);
- identify relevance to Social Work practice/ and/or policy

b) Analysis (40)

- critique general understanding of the issue in light of theory, personal and/or professional experience;
- insightful application of theory to understanding;
- offer suggestions for practice/policy directives;
- If covering a topic already presented in class, it extends understanding and/or makes clear links to class materials.

c) Communication/Presentation skills (30)

- engage class participation;
- clear, coherent presentation;
- innovative, interesting presentation;
- realistic amount of material presentation
- co-ordinated with previous course materials and other presentations;

d) Grading of class presentations will be based in part on feedback from classmates.

3. Assignment 3 - Major paper

a) Content (20 points max.)

- 20 - clear, comprehensive description of topic; selection of appropriate references - up-to-date, clearly relevant to focus of paper; breadth of sources including representation for contrasted perspectives and reliance on primary sources; Identifies theoretical lens or perspective taken; draws in relevant course readings
- 16 - major attendance to most of above
- 12 - minor attendance to most of above

b) Originality and Analysis (30 points max.)

- 30 - original idea or approach: effort to integrate previously unintegrated material; creative development of a theoretical lens or theme; perceptive critique of relevant literature; integration of class readings and discussions
- 22 - major attendance to most of the above
- 16 - minor attendance to most of the above – i.e., repetition of material from references with only minor modification

c) Relationship to Social Work (maximum 30 points)

- 30 - clear, creative and relevant application of theoretical understandings to Social Work practice; applies theoretical lens in a meaningful way to practice and/or policy; links topic to social work practice/policy;

- 22 - moderate link between content of paper to Social Work practice/policy;
- 16 - minor attention given to connection/relevance between content and Social Work
- 0 - no connection made between content and Social Work

d) Written Communication Skills (20)

- Logical Development (e.g., well developed and logically sequenced; continuity between initial orientation, body and final summary, clear progression between paragraphs);
- Style (e.g., excellent sentence construction and choice of words, spelling correct, good transitions between paragraphs, correct use of technical terms, correct use of abbreviations)
- includes all format and style requirements (e.g., abstract) per APA guide

SCHOOL/COURSE POLICIES

UBC COVID-19 Protocols for in-class learning

COVID-19 Safety: You are required to wear a non-medical mask during our class meetings, for your own protection and the safety and comfort of everyone else in the class. For our in-person meetings in this class, it is important that all of us feel as comfortable as possible engaging in class activities while sharing an indoor space. Non-medical masks that cover our noses and mouths are a primary tool for combating the spread of COVID-19. Further, according to the provincial mandate, masks are required in all indoor public spaces including lobbies, hallways, stairwells, elevators, classrooms and labs. There may be students who have medical accommodations for not wearing a mask. Please maintain a respectful environment.

If you are sick, it is important that you stay home.

If you miss class because of illness:

- Ask someone to share their notes regarding lectures and class discussions about readings.
- Be sure to consult the class resources on Canvas.
- If you are concerned that you will miss a key activity due to illness, contact the instructor to discuss.

If I (the instructor) am feeling ill: If I am unwell, I will not come to class. I will make every reasonable attempt to communicate plans for class as soon as possible by email. Our classroom will still be available for you to sit in and attend an online session. In this instance:

- If I am well enough to teach, but am taking precautions to avoid infecting others, we may hold the class online. If this happens, you will receive an email informing you how to join the class.

- If I am not well enough to teach I may ask you to do an activity or read something in place of class time

Attendance

The attendance policy is in the student handbook on page 8. You can find the student handbook on the Advising page of our website: <https://socialwork.ubc.ca/undergraduate/advising/>

The School considers class attendance to be an essential component of integrated learning in professional social work education. Therefore, regular attendance is required in all social work courses. Instructors may count repeated late arrivals or early departures as an absence, and a meeting should be setup to discuss this with the student. If students miss three or more classes, they may be considered to have not met the requirements of the course. If students have valid reasons, they could be withdrawn from the course with the approval of the instructor – otherwise, they would fail the course.

Other school policies can be accessed through the School of Social Work student handbook.

Learning Resources

UBC Learning Commons has a variety of tools and information such as; borrowing equipment, academic integrity (APA Citation Guide), writing support, skills for class, skills for life and academic support to assist students in their learning. <https://learningcommons.ubc.ca/>

University Policies

Support: UBC provides resources to support student learning and to maintain healthy lifestyles but recognizes that sometimes crises arise and so there are additional resources to access including those for survivors of sexual violence. UBC values respect for the person and ideas of all members of the academic community. Harassment and discrimination are not tolerated nor is suppression of academic freedom. UBC provides appropriate accommodation for students with disabilities and for religious observances. UBC values academic honesty and students are expected to acknowledge the ideas generated by others and to uphold the highest academic standards in all of their actions.

Details of the policies and how to access support are available at: <https://senate.ubc.ca/policies-resources-support-student-success>

Learning Analytics

Learning analytics includes the collection and analysis of data about learners to improve teaching and learning. No learning analytics are being used in this course.

Copyright

All materials of this course (course handouts, lecture slides, assessments, course readings, etc.) are the intellectual property of the Course Instructor or licensed to be used in this course by the copyright owner. Redistribution of these materials by any means without permission of the copyright holder(s) constitutes a breach of copyright and may lead to academic discipline.

Students may not record class or group discussions without prior permission of all individuals in attendance.

Support

During the term, I will do my best to offer support if I am concerned about your academic performance or wellbeing. I also encourage you to contact me or your academic advisor if you need assistance. In addition, I may identify concerns using the UBC Early Alert system which provides students with the earliest possible connection to resources like academic advising, financial advising, counseling, or other support services to help you get back on track. Any information transmitted through early alert is treated as confidential (see earlyalert.ubc.ca).

GRADING CRITERIA

Letter Grade	Percent Range	Mid-Point
A+	90-100	95	Represents work of exceptional quality. Content, organization and style are all at a high level. Student demonstrates excellent research and reference to literature where appropriate. Also, student uses sound critical thinking, has innovative ideas on the subject and shows personal engagement with the topic.
A	85-89	87
A-	80-84	82
B+	76-79	77.5	Represents work of good quality with no major weaknesses. Writing is clear and explicit and topic coverage and comprehension is more than adequate. Shows some degree of critical thinking and personal involvement in the work. Good use of existing knowledge on the subject.
B	72-75	83.5
B-	68-71	69.5
C+	64-67	65.5	Adequate and average work. Shows fair comprehension of the subject, but has some weaknesses in content, style and/or organization of the paper. Minimal critical awareness or personal involvement in the work. Adequate use of literature.
C	60-63	62.5
C-	55-59	57
D	50-54	52	Minimally adequate work, barely at a passing level. Serious flaws in content, organization and/or style. Poor comprehension of the subject, and minimal involvement in the paper. Poor use of research and existing literature.
F	0-49		Failing work. Inadequate for successful completion of the course or submitted beyond final date of acceptance for paper.
